R.I. ARTISTS TO GIVE CONCERT

Rhode Island's own Joe Parillo, recently returned from a tour of New Zealand and Hawaii with the Glenn Miller Orchestra, will be giving a concert of original music on Dec. 22 at 2:00 P.M. at AS220 above the Prov. Performing Arts Center, 220 Weybosset St.

Included on the program will be selections from his Neoga Records L.P. "Songbook" as well as new material to be performed for the first time.

Also appearing will be SD-3, the Steve DeConti Trio. The more electric sounds of SD-3 will provide the perfect foil to Joe Parillo's new-age acoustic approach. This promises to be an afternoon of challenging and unique original improvisational music, looking forward to new directions while exhibiting a genuine respect for the Jazz tradition.

A donation of two dollars is being asked. This concert is a presentation of P.M. Productions in conjunction with Neoga records.
